ADVOCATES OF "MILD" RESERVATIONS ACTIVE

SEEK TO IMPRESS UPON PRESIDENT THE NECESSITY OF GETTING OUT OF THE WAY OF PROGRESS

LODGE WILL CONFER WITH THEM

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—The "mild" reservationists today displayed new activity to hasten the ratification of the peace treaty. In line with the warning sounded by President Wilson that the high cost of living will not be down until there is real peace, conferences are being arranged between the senators who favor mild reservations and Lodge, leader of the "strong" reservationists. The object is to make the administration leaders see that the time has come to give calm consideration to the matter of protective reservations in order to get the treaty out of the way.

LEAGUE PLAN A COMPOSITE OF ALL DRAFTS SUBMITTED TO CONFERENCE

By L. C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—"The league of nations covenant is a composite plan based upon the American, British, French and Italian drafts submitted to the peace conference," David Miller, expert on international affairs told the Senate Foreign Relations committee today. He declared the British plan prepared by General Smuts formed the foundation of the covenant. Miller said he attended all the meetings of the league of nations commission in Paris as a technical advisor. "Doesn't the proposed covenant closely follow Smut's plan?" asked Senator Lodge. "In some ways, yes, but it is really a comosite plan of the various schemes submitted," he replied. He explained that many of the clauses from the Bryan treaties were embodied in the league covenant, particularly the clauses requiring inquiry and arbitration before war; a cooling off period. In reply to questions, Miller admitted that he was a law partner of a son in law of Colonel House.

ROUMANIANS RESOLVE TO HOLD THE ENTENTE TO THEIR 1916 PROMISES

VIENNA, August 12—The Roumanian cabinet, according to reports received from Bucharest, has resolved not to evacuate the troops it has in Hungary until the Entente has redeemed the concessions made to Roumania in 1916 in return for her entry into the war. The Roumanians occupy the West of Hungary under the retext of protecting that territory from the inroads of the Bolsheviki.

BERLIN, August 12—Chairman Gregory of the American Food Commission in Budapest has sent a demand to the Roumanian army that it return the confiscated food ships. Such action is deemed necessary to save the people of Budapest from starvation.

ALL COMBAT TROOPS WILL BE OUT OF THE SERVICE BY OCTOBER 1ST

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—Demobilization of combat troops will be practically completed by October 1st, it was learned today, when the War Department announced permanent home camps for regular army divisions, as follows: First Division, Camp Taylor, Ky., Second Division, Camp Travis, Texas. Third Division, Camp Pike, Arkansas. Fourth Division, Camp Dodge, Iowa. Fifth Division, Camp Gordon, Ga. Sixth Division, Camp Grant, Ill. Seventh Division, Camp Funston, Kansas.

ANTI-REDS OF ARCHANGEL DISTRICT APPEAL TO ALLIES TO STAY THERE

PARIS, August 12—The anti-Bolshevik government of Archangel, Russia, has appealed to the Allies not to withdraw their armed forces from the Archangel territor. They declare that military, financial and railroad aid are absolutely necessary to save the entire north of Russia from the grip of Bolsheviki despoilers.

Negligent Neighbors

DONT KNOW YET HOW MUCH GAS HE HAD IN TANK

A Woodland man caused considerable of a flurry about the Central garage Saturday night last. The Woodlandite possessed a flivver and stabled the machine at the garage while shopping about town. When ready to go home he decided to load up a few gallons of gas and one of the employes of the garage was engaged in supplying his wants when the fireworks opened.

Gas, like barbering, is pretty high these days and as the indicator on the automatic gauge had been sliding up and dropping back for some time, the auto owner got anxious and deciding he had invested enough money struck a match and poked it in the direction of the gas tank to see how full it was. He just got his match headed in the direction of the tank at that. Then the fireworks. The fumes ignited and instantly the flivver was a pillar of fire. The garage attaches were on the job at once with their fire extinguishers and after succeeding in getting the flaming car out into the alley doused the flames inside and let the old car burn. It was some blaze for a little while.

Before starting to walk home the Woodlandite observed that when he got another car he would take the garage count for gas, as he found there was at least one case where seeing was a dangerous proposition.

BASEBALL FANS GETTING EXCITED

Interest in Thursday evening's championship baseball game continues to grow daily and tickets placed on sale about town yesterday are going like hot cakes.

Indications point to a very large crowd and as both teams are looking forward to the game with much more than ordinary interest "some clash" is sure to be the result. Philipsburg people think their team which has won 32 games without a defeat will cop the coin in this game, but Clearfield's "wise fans" are of the opinion that Big Rube Hagerty will stand them on their heads while DeHart's sluggers are putting over several runs or enough o "bring home the bacon". The "bacon" in this case is a $500 side bet—not an unhandy thing to have about the house in these days of high living and higher barbering.

The game will be called at 6 o'clock in the evening and that will give everybody a chance to take it in.

Admission, 50c; no war tax.

FINANCIAL AID IS PLANNED FOR ORIENT

The British, French, American and Japanese Governments have agreed to encourage the banks of their several nations in the formation of a new consortium for China. Information on the subject is that this latest agreement to loan China a large sum of money does not threaten any possible infringement of her sovereignty. All future loans to the Chinese government or individual provinces will be made by the group as a whole; the financing by the participating powers shall be pro rata.

Existing interests of the participating banks in China will be similarly pooled. In the opinion of the Herald of Asia, such a consortium will mean that particular nations will no longer have a predominating influence in certain parts of China. The editor of that journal summarizes Japanese press opinions and comments thereon.

The Tokio Cugai Shogyo wants to know how the doctrine will be applied to Japan's interests in Shantung and other parts of China. Reviewing the history of the organization of the new loan syndicate, the paper observes that America has no intention of refusing to rejoin the quadruple syndicate, neither is she willing to accept the invitation at once. Hence her counter-proposal for the formation of a new consortium. Therefore the question: Shall the new consortorium be regarded as an extension of the old quadruple syndicate?

MICKIE SAYS

LOYAL LEGION TO STEER AWAY FROM PARTY POLITICS

In an editorial on "Policies—No Politics", the current number of The American Legion Weekly, expresses The American Legion's stand on public policies and warns posts of the Legion throughout the country to avoid mingling in local partisan politics:

"Mingling in local politics is a temptation and pitfall which post throughout the country must avoid," says the veterans' magazine. "Everything bearing on partisan politics was put aside at the Paris caucus and again at the St. Louis caucus when the American Legion was founded. Partisan politics has been barred successfully from every consideration and step in the development of the Legion thus far. This must continue to be.

"No doubt wily politicians of every denomination will be courting the local posts. There will be crafty campaigns to procure an indorsement of this or that local issue or candidate for public office. It would be more than a blunder for a local post to engage in any such activity. It would be an act of bad faith. Policies not politics, is the watchword; and the policies are confined to the pronouncements of the St. Louis caucus and the temporary constitution, pending the great November caucus where all the men who were in service are to express themselves."

VENERAL QUARANTINE

The State Health Commissioner is empowered by a recently passed resolution of the advisory board of the State Health Department to quarantine cases of veneral disease when "in the opinion of the attending physician or the county representative of the State Department of Health the character, occupation, habits or neglect of treatment make those infected menaces to the public health." This is a radical step in the control of social disease in Pennsylvania, which has not heretofore come under the control of the State Health Department to this extent. Physicians are not required to report such cases, but the State authorities are empowered to establish quarantines the same as for any communicable or contagious disease where the conditions warrant, the usual penalties to apply for violation. The advisory board has also empowered the State Commissioner to regulate funerals, undertakers being forbidden to provide clothing, draperies, carpets, rugs or artificial flowers for funerals in private houses and restrictions are placed around funerals of chickenpox victims. All newspaper notices of such funerals must state the cause of death. Another resolution of the advisory board requires all householders, hotel or lodging house keepers to report all persons in their employ not being attended by a physiian who have any outbreaks on their skins, who have sore throats or violent coughing or are too sick to play or work. These names must be turned over to local health authorities for investigation.

SHOT FROM FALLEN GUN KILLS MAN HALF MILE AWAY

An unusually peculiar fatal shooting occured in the mountains of Southern Elk County between Benezette and Wilmer on Saturday evening when a Polish miner whose name could not be recalled by any of several sources in which it was sought, was killed by a bullet from a high powered gun accidentally discharged nearly a half mile away.

The Polander, who was a bachelor and lived in a shanty near Wilmer, had been hunting ground-hogs on Saturday evening, using a 22-calibre rifle. He had discovered a groundhog, and fearing the power of his gun to be too small to kill it, whistled to John Swackhammer, aged 24, who was nearly a half mile away on his way home after hunting, and carried a high powered rifle.

The Polish man attracted Swackhammer's attention and signalled him to come and shoot the animal. Swackhammer started toward him and had crawled over a stump fence and was passing between two roots, as Elk County Coroner S. E. Hayes learned at his investigation yesterday. Previous to passing over the fence, Swackhammer had placed a shell in the chamber of his gun, and as he extended the gun from him to evade the roots the weapon slipped from his hands and fell in the wedge between two roots, being discharged.

Swackhammer heard the Polander's cry and ran to his side, finding him dead. He had been shot through the back, the bullet coming out just above the heart. Swackhammer had not stopped to get his own gun but summoned neighbors and then gave himself up. The coroner's investigation was held yesterday and the gun was found in a position pointing exactly to the spot where the unfortunate man stood. The distance was measured and found to be 575 yards or nearly a third of a mile.

COMRADES LETTER TELLS OF HEROISM OF JAMES BALL

Houston, Texas,
Aug. 6th, 1919.

Mr. Frank L. Ball,
Clearield, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your letter dated Feb. 28, 1919 addressed to me overseas came back to me here today and I take the first opportunity to answer.

James Ball was a corporal in my platoon and I knew him very well, he being immediately under my observation every day. I regret to learn of his death. Not until I received your letter did I hear of it. The reason for this being that at 9:30 Oct. 14th I was severely wounded and evacuated through our army hospitals and no news of the front came to me.

I wish I could inform you of the particulars of his wounds and suggest that you write to Joseph Cannon, Capt. 13th M. G. Bn., U. S. A., and he will inform you if you have not gotten the information.

James Ball was in my platoon first as a private and on taking La Frapelle in the Vosges mountains I called our captain's attention to his coolness and discretion in action, when he was promoted to corporal. He was a red-blooded, clear-brained boy. I saw him ten minutes before I was wounded in the Argonne battle and he was the same there as at St. Mihiel and the Vosges; cool and resourceful, in possession of himself, therefore in command of his squad.

You suffer sorrow but not regret for you are the proud kin of a boy who fought with the heart and soul of an American soldier and so he died.

Respectfully,
S. E. McHARD.

TOWNSHIPS GETTING ROAD MONEY FROM STATE THIS WEEK

HARRISBURG, August 12.—The State Highway Department today announced that payment of the cash tax bonus due townships in Clearfield county for the years 1913 and 1914 has been made by the state treasurer.

By Act of July 22, 1913, known as the "Jones Dirt Road Act" it was provided that the road tax in townships shall be collected in cash and no taxes shall be payable in labor or worked out. It was also provided that each township furnish a sworn annual report to the State Highway department showing all receipts and expenditures during the past year, and also a signed agreement showing the proposed method of expending funds received from the commonwealth. This, together with a copy of the treasurer's bond, entitled the township to receive its share of the annual bonus, which was intended to cover an annual reimbursement from the State of 50 per cent. of the total amount of road tax collected by the township as shown in the sworn statement, but not more than $20 per mile of township road.

By Act of June 3, 1915, the provisions of the Act of July 22, 1913, were suspended until all deficiencies incurred prior to the year 1915 be paid by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. During the 1919 session of the legislature, an appropriation of $1,142,049.38 was made to pay in full all the deficiencies due the townships and the certification of this bonus to the State Treasurer for payment to the townships is now under way.

The amounts now being paid the townships in Clearfield county are as fololwa:

CLERKS WILL FORM UNION

Representatives of the clerks of Clearfield met last evening for purpose of devising ways and means looking toward the organization of a union among the clerks. A temporary organization was effected with Tom Lynch of the A. W. Lenardson Co. stores as chairman. A temporary committee on ways and means was appointed and they will canvass the clerks with a view to securing members for the proposed organization.

A meeting for permanent organization will be held in No. 1 Fire companys hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock and every clerk in the town is urged to attend or affiliate with the local union. The purpose of the organization is to safeguard and secure better working conditions for the clerks.

$100 A THROW—IN CLEARFIELD AT THAT

Our Religious Editor is of the opinion that there are some Clearfield people for whom the high cost of living has no terrors. He arrived at this conclusion following an experience he had yesterday morning before 9 o'clock. While meandering down our principal business thoroughfare within the shadow of the county seat of justice the religious one's attention was attracted to a group of young men standing in the market place idle. That is all were idle but one fellow in the group. This lad was down on one knee rolling something out of his hand onto the ground, while his companions were huddled over him watching with eager eyes the objects the first fellow was dashing about. These objects were two white cubes with various little black eyes scattered over their many sided half inch faces.

The operator on his knee was working like a ditch digger while beads of perspiration stood upon his brow. As he rolled the little squares he gave vent to peculiar cries or wails, such as "'Oh, baby!" "Only one mile from home," "Come on seven" "faded," "crap."

Just then the interested group separated enough for the curious interloper to note a bundle of greenbacks on the ground in front of the player and as this worthy arose to his feet one of the others gathered up the coin and a third party chimed in with "I'll shoot you a hundred." Out came more greenbacks and learning then that this was some newfangled game of chance where the players were wagering $50 and $100 per shot, the unbidden spectator departed in search of a policeman.

But what do you know of a crap game within a couple of hundred feet of the court house in broad daylight with the stakes ranging as high as $50 and $100 per throw. Some sports! What? We'll say so.

TOMMYROT

A few foolish radicals are talking of a revolution in the United States.

We may pause for a moment to ask what is the purpose of a revolt, the answer to which is that the only thing a revolt can accomplish is to give the people—all the people, not a part of the people—the right to vote for the kind of officials and the kind of laws they want.

In the United States the right of manhood suffrage is universal. The people have already precisely the kind of officials a ma- sal. The people have already precisely the kind of officials a ma- the kind of men we, the people elect.

Those who chatter of revolt, are a small minority, and minority rule will never prevail in this country. If there ever is to be any fighting in the United States it will be to keep a minority from gaining control of the government; let there be no mistake about that.

With all our faults we still have by far the best government in the world. The people know that and anybody who tries to overturn what thousands have died to create and save would receive mighty short shrift and the sooner they understand that the better.

Revolt in the United States?
Who would revolt and for what?

Carnegie Rivaled Franklin As An Author of Epigrams

Andrew Carnegie, like Benjamin Franklin, could turn an epigram neatly. Some of the more famous of them follow:

Wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness.
Millionaires who laugh are rare.
Dealing with petty affairs tends to make small men; dealing with larger affairs broadens and strengthens character.

A chaperon's duties are often most successfully performed by a wise and salutary neglect.

A great man settles things; a small one nibbles away at petty reforms.

As far as I have known millionaires, the library is the least used part of what he would probably consider "furniture" in his mansion.

Two women, my mother and my wife, made me all that I am.

Put all your eggs in one basket and then watch that basket.

Jewels are to woman what wine is to man—not recommended till after forty, and a poor help at any age.

You cannot push any one up a ladder unless he is willing to climb a little himself.

It seems to me it is not God but men who are disposed to make the path so very thorny.

People never appreciate what is wholly given to them so highly as that to which they themselves contribute.

I always pity the sons and daughters of rich men, who are attended by servants and have governesses at a later age, but am glad to remember that they do not know what they have missed.

It is the stagnant pool of Contentment, not the running stream of Ambition, that breeds disease in the body social and political.

There is one difference between the parties in the republic—the one is in and the other is out.

No man is a true gentleman who does not inspire the affection and devotion of his servants.

If a man would eat, he must work A life of elegant leisure is the life of an unworthy citizen. The republic does not owe him a living; it is he who owes the republic a life of usefulness. Such is the republican idea.

Today's Political Review

William P. F. Ferguson, recognized for twenty years as the leading editorial writer in the Prohibition party in the nation, announces that he will register as a Republican for the forthcoming election. He makes the announcements in the News-Herald, Franklin's only daily newspaper, of which he is editor. Ferguson was formerly editor of the Voice, the New Voice, the Defender and the National Prohibitionist, all Prohibition party organs in the United States, and was the choice of Michigan and Wisconsin and half of the Pennsylvania delegation for President in 1916.

Just about one hundred hungry Democrats will have to bow the knee to the "most high and mighty" to get in on the census enumeration. Of course there will be at least that many "willin" and hard to tell how many more who will be sore as boils that they do not get the job. The fellows who thought they would get the job of supervisor will hardly be applicants for the job of enumerator. It is interesting to note that the population of the four counties in this district, Centre, Clearfield, McKean and Cameron, was 192,704 in 1910. Those Democrats always get the best of things. There will be more noses to count this time.

The political registration for Clearfield county is not yet available owing to the lateness of the registration period in our one third class city. It is a safe bet though that the Republican ranks are going to be greatly augmented. A lot of fellows are staying within the narrow confines of the Democratic party for the sole purpose of getting a crack at party leaders in the coming primaries but a lot more of them are going to pack their handbag and get out at once.

The last day for filing nomination papers is not nearly here yet for county offices and it will not be at all surprising to see new "hopes" appear at the last moment. Would-be bosses in both major parties have been casting about for some time in an effort to pick winners for the various offices. Those who would be glad to have support lack calibre and those who look like good vote getters know that they can paddle their own canoe better without taking on any ballast. In desperation it is possible that a new line-up will appear on the horizon.

Deliberate robbery is the only name that can be used in connection with the popular pastime of soliciting candidates for their card to appear on hotel menus, time tables, information cards, festival tilkets, etc. The candidate cannot refuse to cough up so he always does. Such practices should be prohibited by law. An honest man with only a little money has a small chance under such conditions. It isn't that the cards do him a bit of good but rather that the thief spreads the news broadcast that so-and-so refused to buy the space.

All returned service men who were not assessed and have not paid the usual tax or been registered for voting purposes will be privileged to vote under an Act of Assembly approved by Governor Sproul on July 1th last by the payment to the tax collector of the district wherein they desire to vote of a tax of 10 cents. In addition to this ten cent tax payment the person desiring to vote must satisfy the election board that he had been in the army or navy during the time claimed and which service interfered with his registration and regular tax payment.

Ther record for long-distance "lone hand" automobile touring is claimed for Mrs. Maud M. White, who motored alone from Rochester, N. Y., to Miami, Okla., thence to Brantford, Ont., to visit her mother, and from Brantford returned to her home on Rochester.

A Frenchman has made successful experiments with the smallest aeroplane existing, called the "mosquito." It measures only four yards from wing-tip to wing-tip and has a twenty horsepower engine. It flew for an hour at an altitude of 5000 feet.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]

NOW is the time to look for diseases of plants and vegetables and you must remember next spring where the damage has occurred.

Onion smut is a disease which lives in the ground. It appears on the young plants, which are stunted, as numerous blisters which are filled with a black powder.

An attachment has been devised to use with an ordinary drill which drops formaldehyde solution, one pint to 30 gallons of water, at the time the seed is put in the ground.

But do not overlook the condition of your plants now and do not repeat the same crop on the same land if you can avoid it. Cabbage black rot, club root and black leg may all be treated in like manner.

In addition you must treat the seed just previous to planting (one ounce formaldehyde solution in 2½ gallons of water or one teaspoonful to one pint of water).

The same treatment is efficacious for cucumber root rot.

Learn to know these diseases so that you can avoid them in the spring.

Onion smut often takes over fifty per cent of the crop.

In Wisconsin a sick field was treated, which afterward yielded 328 bushels of onions on an acre. The average amount of smut on the surrounding untreated fields was 47 per cent and on the treated fields only 5 per cent.

This is the difference between success and failure.

MOTOR TRUCKS TO AID ROADS

Government to Give Army Equipment Valued at $45,000,000 to State Highway Departments.

More than $45,000,000 worth of motor trucks are about to be distributed by the secretary of agriculture through the bureau of public roads to the state highway departments. These trucks have been declared surplus by the war department and are being distributed to the states under the provisions of section 7 of the post office appropriation bill. They must be used by the states on roads constructed in whole or in part by federal aid, for which $200,000,000 in addition to the former appropriation was given to the states under the same bill. All that the states must do to acquire the use of these 20,000 trucks, which range in capacity from two to five tons, is to pay the loading and freight charges.

Of the 20,000 motor vehicles to be acquired practically free by the states 11,000 are new and 9,000 are used, but all are declared to be in serviceable condition. The motors will be apportioned to states only upon request of the state highway departments on the basis of the requests received from the respective states, and in accordance with the apportionment provided in the federal aid law approved in 1916. The requirements of the laws are such that the bureau of public roads cannot distribute any trucks to counties or individuals.

FARMERS FAVOR GOOD ROADS

Recognized as Greatest Economic Need of Agricultual Communities in Eastern States.

Good roads are the greatest economic need for agricultural communities. This is the answer of 200 prominent farmers of the state of Maine to questionnaires which asked them to summarize urgent necessities to bring their districts up to the desired economic standard.

The farmers who answered the questionnaires were selected as those best fitted to answer the questions, and they were asked to furnish a digest of the situation in their respective communities with reference to acreage, crops, farm improvements, civic and social conditions, etc.

The definitions of the greatest needs covered a wide and interesting range. The largest record of needs was good roads, 85 emphasizing the urgent necessity of adequate highways. There were 45 who asked for more farm laborers, 44 for co-operative buying and selling, 35 for better school privileges, 29 for more blueblooded stock, 29 for manufacturing plants, 29 for better marketing facilities, and 21 for greater credit extensions by banks.

ROADS AS DIVIDEND PAYERS

Where Good Roads Enable Farmer to Save One Hour Per Week He Makes Big Gain in Year.

If a farmer saves an hour a week by being enabled to use good roads as opposed to bad roads, it would mean 52 hours a year; estimating the use of man and team as being worth $6 a day, this means a saving of $31.20 a year.

Suppose his farm is assessed at $10,000, and the additional tax levy due to the issue of road bonds by the county runs to $1 per thousand, which would mean $10 a year additional taxes as against a saving of $31.20 on time alone. This means that he is investing $10 and drawing dividends of $31.20, an interest rate of 312 per cent.

TEXAS TO BUILD HIGHWAYS

According to Member of State Highway Commission Approximately $12,000,000 Available.

Approximately $12,000,000 is available for road construction work in Texas in 1919, according to R. M. Hubbard, a member of the state highway commission. This amount includes about $10,000,000 from the federal post office appropriation bills.

MAZOLA is used over and over again without transmitting flavors or odors from one food to another. It is not absorbed into foods.

And remember—Mazola is equal to butter for cooking, better and more wholesome than lard and compounds and you use ¼ to ⅓ less Mazola for shortening, as in pie crusts, etc.

BERLIN MOST WIDE OPEN CITY IN THE WORLD. A GAMBLING RIOT

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN. (By Mail.)—A sort of "devil-may-care" spirit pervades Berlin.

It undoubtedly arises from the let-down after four years of war. And it manifests iself in a wild pursuit of pleasure. Champagne and gambling are the main objects upon which pleasure-craving Berlin directs its attention, seeking surcease from the the past.

Berlin may lack food, but it doesn't lack for amusements. A vast class of rich folks are going through their money with a surprising rapidily, while many persons of more moderate means have caught the infection and are cutting into savings of a lifetime to satisfy the almost universal desire for pleasure.

Even the "reds," who are supposed to be very poverty stricken, have a trace of the spirit, as was instanced recently when a Spartacus party was announced for one of the suburbs, with the statement that there'd be plenty to drink and much to eat. In short, the circular stated practically, that though the people were poor they were going to spend what they had with a lavishness and abandon. There was to be food such as a rationed people were not supposed to be able to obtain, and there was to be drink galore, and the guests were to stay as long as they saw fit.

As a result of this spirit, the city is fairly alive with cafes and dance halls. There is generally little, or poor, food in these places, but the habitues buy wine with a recklessness that would make even a wealthy Chicago packer or a Pittsburgh steel magnate dizzy.

As for gambling, Berlin at present is probably the widest-open city in the world. Men and women play for stakes of thousands of marks, and seem to get little thrill over either a winning or losing.

The whole spirit of this pleasure-mad crowd is one of forced gayety. There is none of the sparkle to it that one experiences among the French. It is simply a sort of stunned let down, a case of saying, virtually, "Well, the game has been played out; we've lost, and what do we care now." It constitutes a moral relaxation that has in it the essence of national breakdown provided the present regime continues.

Berlin doesn't care. That's the answer with thousands who have money, and thousands who have a little.

Your Kiddies Eyes And Next Year's School

Was your kiddie one of those that did not make their grade last year? Defective eyesight held many children back. School years are precious. Are you going to start your kiddies to school in a couple weeks under the handicap of defective eyesight?

Bring them to me. I do not take their word for what they can or cannot see. I use instruments that make the eye as an open book.

NOTICE

The Public Schools of Clearfield will open Tuesday, September second. All grade pupils must present their classification card and promotion certificate at the opening of school.

All pupils must have been successfully vaccinated before teachers may lawfully admit them to school.

Parents having children whom they expect to send to school for the first time on September second should have them vaccinated now if they have not been previously vaccinated. It is neither fair to pupil or teacher to have the child adjust itself to school conditions while it is enduring the physical inconvenience often caused for a short time by vaccination. A5|12|19-c

Scorch Marks.

If not too severe scorch marks are most effectually remedied by soaking the part in cold water and exposing to the rays of the sun, moistening afresh as it dries, until the blemish disappears.

To remove scorch from linen, put two ounces of fuller's earth into a saucepan, add half an ounce of white soap, the juice of two large onions and one cupful of vinegar. Boil together for a few minutes, strain into a jar, and keep covered for future use. Spread on the scorched parts with a knife, and allow it to dry on. The stain will soon disappear. If the garment is scorched with ironing, rub a lump of dry starch on the mark. Then sponge it off. Repeat till the yellow disappears.

Iron-Mold and Dry-Ink Stains.

Iron-mold and dry-ink stains may be removed by placing the stained material in a hot solution of salts of sorrel or salts of lemon, and leaving it to steep until they disappear; or by placing the stained part over a basin and pouring boiling water through to moisten the stain, which enables the chemical action to take place more rapidly. Then a small quantity of salts of lemon or salts of sorrel should be placed on the stain and rubbed firmly in, and boiling water again poured through. If the first application does not remove it, the process must be repeated. If the iron mold is due to old iron rust, neither of the above-mentioned chemicals may remove it successfully. A pinch of oxalic acid, which is a strong chemical, may then have the desired effect. It is used in exactly the same manner as salts of lemon but it must be used with great care, as it is injurious to fabrics.

To remove ink stains from white material before the ink is quite dry, sprinkle with salt and rub with half a lemon. Rinse off the acid and wash at once. When ink stains are dry, but fresh, they may be removed by dipping the stained part in buttermilk, or milk that has been boiled; change the milk frequently, then wash the article well.

To Remove Iron Rust.

Spots of iron rust which are so likely to be found on white dresses and aprons may be easily removed in the following way: Place a small lump of cream of tartar on the spot of iron rust, and tie up the dress goods so as to hold the cream of tartar on the spot. Do the same to all the spots of iron rust and put the clothes into the boiler. After boiling, the clothes will be perfectly white and free from spots.

Sports Handkerchiefs.

Sports handkerchiefs may be said to be a bit lurid. Some of them have dared to be made of bright plaid linens, green and blue plaid being among the favorites. Other sports handkerchiefs are in plain bright colors with hand-rolled hems whipped in either white or black threads, with blocked monograms also in white or black.

White Trims Dark Hats.

Black hats and navy hats are seen this summer with white as a favorite trimming. There may be a white facing, a wide or narrow brim, with several big snowy wings springing at different angles from one point on the side of the crown.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Ford cars are important servants everywhere. They help the family enjoy life, bring the pleasures and advantages of the town within reach of the farmer and give practical service every day in country and town. They require a minimum of attention; any one can run the Ford and care for it, but it is better to have repairs and replacements taken care of by those who are familiar with the work and have the tools, the genuine materials, and skilled men to do the work promptly. We pledge Ford owners the reliable Ford service with real Ford parts and standard Ford prices.

"MOISTURE is the keynote of a successful garden and yet it is left to chance more than any other one essential. If plants are eaten by bugs or wilted by blight, the gardener is at once up in arms but he still depends upon providence to bring him rain long after the time when the plants have begun to suffer.

"The be-ribboned lady in a shepherdess hat with blue bows tied to a sprinkling can, who appears on the cover of our garden magazines, is responsible for a good deal of misinformation. Her dribbling sprinkling does the plants more harm than good.

"Do not water your vegetable garden nightly with a sprinkling shower from the hose.

"Dig trenches along the side of your vegetable rows and around your fruit trees. Arrange to have your water supply high enough to irrigate thoroughly and a soaking once a week, when the sun is not shining (early morning and evening is best) will restore the vitality and get pep to your plants," says Mr. Frank Bancke, vice-president, American Steel & Wire company.

"When it is considered that the alchemy of nature makes foliage and fruit out of a few mineral substances, sunshine and moisture, be sure that the conditions are right to help nature.

"Water you garden but give it plenty while you are watering. A little sprinkling will do a great deal of damage. Watch the surface of your grounds and do not let cracks form. After soaking as soon as cracks begin to appear, pulverize with a cultivator or hoe, keeping your mulch. Crops are mostly made of water. You must supply the water if nature fails."

Camel Cigarettes

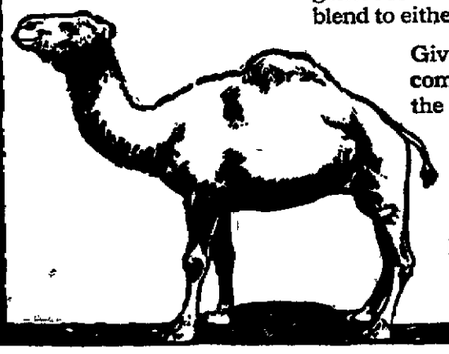
18 cents a package

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes, or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigaretty after-taste or any unpleasant cigaretty odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!



Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

HEINZ READY FOR FAIR PRICE JOB

PITTSBURGH, August 12—Howard Heinz, former State Food Administrator, announced today that he was prepared to act along the lines suggested by District Attorney Crawford. Former county food administrator will be asked to form a "fair price" committee. This committee will be made up of representatives of retailers, wholesalers, producers, laborers and housewives. The committee will have no power to fix prices but will designate prices for necessities which they believe to be fair to all concerned. Publication of these fair price lists would prevent the profiteer from taking advantage of conditions.

NO INCREASE IN FOOD STORAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, August 12—Storage of food in Pennsylvania has not increased noticeably during the last two years, James Foust, Secretary of the Dairy and Food Commission announced today. Commissioner Faust said that at the close of the last report there were seventeen million eggs in storage, about two dozen per capita. Since that time eggs and large quantities of meats, butter and foods were being dispensed in large quantities.

PERSHING GOING TO ROME

BULLETIN. PARIS, August 12—General Pershing will leave for Italy next Saturday visiting Rome and the battlefields. He will start home about the first week in September.

Ready-Mades for Little Maids

As mothers become busier, or less inclined to spend time in sewing, in order to give it to other affairs, they have learned to look to the specialist to help them out with frocks and other clothes for children. And manufacturers have met the growing demand for ready-made or partly-made clothes, by turning out examples of good designing, in practical materials, that the most gifted amateur cannot hope to excel. Even those mothers who prefer to have the children's clothes made at home, look to the display of children's frocks made in the shops for models to guide them. Wraps they nearly always buy ready made.

Since the school girl must be outfitted by the time September appears over time's horizon, dresses and wraps for her make their entry in July. These forerunners of fall styles this year show that the neat effects that were featured in spring have come to stay a while, all because they were so heartily welcomed. They mark an advance in taste and are useful in educating the little girls themselves to like neatness. A fine sense of clothes is sometimes inborn, but oftener it is acquired unconsciously by the fortunate daughter of a discriminating mother. Neatness is the outstanding merit of the frock and wrap shown in the picture above.

The little girl at the left wears a dress of black and white checked woolen goods made with a plaited skirt and a wrap that inherits its style from the spring season. It is a coat and cape combined with buttons for ornament and has a small cape collar overlaid with silk. It will be noticed that it is longer than the dress (which is knee length) in the cape portion, and that the shorter coat is belted across the front. There are very practical set-in pockets on each side.

The frock of cotton poplin at the right might be made of chambray, gingham, or other sturdy cotton goods, or in plain wools. It is a pretty design with bodice simulating a jacket and a plaited skirt. Small buttons and a childish collar, set off by very simple embroidered sprays, that are repeated on the bottom of the jacket, reveal the ideas of a designer who has no superiors. They are the signature of trained talent.

PRIMARY ELECTION INFORMATION

The primary election will be held on Tuesday, September 16th, 1919.

The last day for filing nomination certificates with the County Commissioners is Tuesday, August 19th.

The primary law provides that petitions for nomination for all borough or township offices must contain the signatures of at least ten electors or voters of the district wherein the candidate resides. The affidavit of the candidate must be attached to the petition.

Blank nominating petitions can be secured from the Commissioners and in no case can a candidate get his name printed on the primary ballot except he comply with the primary law as stated.

Therefore all candidates for local borough or township offices must secure these blanks and have them signed, properly sworn to and filed with the County Commissioners before August 19th to secure a place on the primary ballot.

In some instances local caucuses have been held and names suggested for borough or township offices and this list of names sent to the commissioners. This will not do, as in each case such lists must be returned and the proper procedure gone thru.

Get your primary petitions, have at least ten voters sign, each have the proper affidavit made before a Justice of the Peace or Notary Public and then file same at the County Commissioners' office and the names of such candidates will be printed on the primary ballot. That is the law and must be obeyed. We have no other option in the matter.

Under new legislation the above rule applies to DuBois City.

By order of
The County Commissioners.

RAILROAD STRIKES OF THE PAST

No attempt at a national railroad strike in the United States has ever succeeded.

The first great railroad strike, in 1877, involved only three roads, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania and the Erie.

In 1887 thirty thousand employees of the Reading railroad went on strike for an advance in wages. The men remained out two months, during which time the aggregate loss to them in wages amounted to $3,600,000.

Following the disastrous strike of 1877 there was no great strike on American railroads until 1886, when the employes of the Missouri Pacific system were ordered out by Martin Jones. This strike involved nearly 10,000 men lasted two months and resulted in a heavy financial loss.

One of the shortest railroad strikes on record occurred in 1890, when a general strike was declared by employes of the New York Central lines against the dismissal of men who belonged to the Knights of Labor. The differences were speedily adjusted and within two days the men returned to work.

At the time of the great railroad strike in 1894 President Cleveland sent Federal troops to Chicago despite the objections of Governor Altgeld of Illinois, and the disorders were quelled, but not until the railroads had lost nearly a million in property destroyed and more than four millions in earnings, while the loss to strikers and to shippers also reached far into the millions.

Following the railroad strike of 1894 President Cleveland appointed a commission to investigate the nature and causes of the strike. This commission, headed by Carrol D. Wright, then commissioner of labor, suggested that something like government control must be exercised over quas-public corporations and, though not composed of Socalists, cautiously hinted that government ownership might be undertaken at the proper time.

In the railroad strike of 1877 President Hayes, after issuing two proclamations, finaly sent federal troops into Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The rioters gave way before that force without bloodshed. But there were disturbances as far west as Chicago where 19 men were killed. The deaths at Scranton numbered three and the mayor narrowly escaped being killed. At Reading machine shops and warehouses were burned and pillaged and nearly a dozen persons were killed.

The American Railway union strike of 25 years ago, which originated in the town of Pullman on account of a cut in wages and the laying off of many men at a time when business was dull, was of greater consequence than any previous labor disturbance and for a time threatened to tie up the entire transportation system of the United States. The strike spread through half a dozen western states, but during the whole of the troubles the eastern roads were but little affected.

FAMILY REUNION AND PICNIC

Elijah Plympton with his two grandsons William and Glenn, of Elwood City, Pa., have been visiting relatives and friends here for the past two weeks. His four sisters, namely, Mrs. Frank Smeal, Mrs. McElvain, Mrs. Geo. Gearhart, and Mrs. M. G. Brown, together with their families, passed the word around to meet at the Clearfield Driving Park on last Thursday evening. Accordingly they all arrived at the place about six o'clock with well filled baskets and soon a table was spread with a sumptuous feast surrounded by about seventy-five relatives who enjoyed the occasion immensely. After the supper the evening was spent in social conversation and renewing old friendships, when all departed for their homes hoping to meet at another like occasion at some future time.

INFORMATION FOR SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES FOR VOTING PRIVILEGES

The present session of legislature has made provision whereby any soldier, sailor or marine in service, or who has served in the army or navy of the United States and who has returned to his home, shall be entitled to vote in his respective election district even though he has not been assessed and has not paid the usual taxes, or is not personally registered in the district in which he resides, provided that such election at which he offers to vote shall occur at such time as has prevented him from being assessed and from having paid his usual taxes and where the same is neecessary from having been personally registered after his return to his home as is required in the case of an elector by the constitution.

The provision of this Act requires that he shall produce to the election officer a receipt from the proper tax collector setting forth that such person has paid a county tax of ten cents (10c). The several tax collectors are authorized to receive such tax of ten cents.

All that is necessary for a soldier, sailor or marine who has returned after the registration period in townships and boroughs is for him to pay ten cents to the tax collector in his voting distict, secure a tax receipt for that amount, and be prepared to present it to the election board on day of the election.

The same rule applies to DuBois City except that he should present his tax receipt to the Registrar of his voting precinct on one of the days for registration of voters in Third Class Cities.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Joe Jenkins, who is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, is home for a short vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Jenkins.

George Phillips, a former Curwensville boy but who for the past two years has been employed at Detroit, Mich., arrived in town yesterday for a visit with relatives and friends. He says that there is employment for everybody who wants to work in that city.

Mrs. H. T. Hewitson, who has been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Clute for some time left for her home in Philadelphia yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. E. M. Thompson and sister Mrs. Clute accompanied her on her journey as far as Tyrone, making the trip in a motor car.

The Progress correspondent neglected to record the game of ball played between the Patton club and the home team at Athletic Park last Friday, in which the Curwensville fellows were thrashed to a finish, the visitors winning by a score of 13 to 7. It was a snappy game throughout nevertheless.

During the heavy electric storm the latter part of last week lightning struck the upper bay window in the house occupied by Billy McClure on the knob and took the sash out as clean as though it had been done by a first class mechanic.

Burgess Traister has issued instructions to Chief of Police Clark to enforce the neglected curfew ordinance. The burgess, who is a great lover of the kiddies and wants to see them having a good time as long as they can, has fixed the hour of home going at 10 o'clock instead of at 9 as the law reads. He is going to allow them to enjoy this extra hour until school starts and after that time 9 o'clock mandate will be strictly enforced.

The new motor fire engine or truck arrived last Friday, and on Saturday evening Mr. B. Raymond, who represents the LaFrance company at Elmira, and who came here two or three days before the engine arrived, had the machine out on the streets and ran it up some of the hills. It worked like a charm, as some of the local firemen claim who acompanied it and rode on the truck. Saturday it was on the road again, and according to Assistant Postmaster Verne Bloom's version the engine can easily throw a stream of water over the sun, moon and stars. By the time the final test is made there will be enough of the local firemen sufficiently conversant with the mechanism of the machine to handle it successfully and run it up the highest grades witin the borough limits in case of fire.

At a recent meeting of the school board Prof. Santee was chosen to teach one of the departments in our public schools. The Professor needs no letters of introduction to Curwensville people as he was a teacher here when he was notified to join the colors for a march over the seas.

A little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Milliron died at the Clearfield hospital Monday afternoon. The body was brought to the home of his parents on Ridge avenue. The funeral was held this afternoon, interment being made in Oak Hill cemetery. Rev. Biddle, of the M. E. Church conducted the services.

There has been a good deal of comment round and about about how our big Labor Day celebration is going to be conducted. One false rumor has been spread to the effect that the committee in charge of the grounds are going to charge admittance and also for anyone who might want to enjoy the amusements. This is false, as there will be no money asked from any one for either. As we understand the arrangement everything will be free to all. It might be that automobiles will not be allowed to enter the grounds, for the reason that so many of the gasoline vehicles running in and out would be a menace to life and limb of the children, and to older ones as well. Clearfield people are coming, DuBois people will be on hand and in fact people from almost every town in the county will be here, knowing before hand that Curwensville will do just as it advertises to do—give them a royal welcome and a good time.

Mrs. O. H. Chapin, who has been confined to her bedroom for the past two or three weeks, was able to be down stairs yesterday, and out on the porch where she was heartily greeted by her many friends.

The Pregress yesterday evening brot to Curwensville people the sad news of the untimely death of Woody Kelly, which occurred near Warren, Dr. Kalbfus, of Harrisburg, also meeting his death. Both men were killed by having their automobile hit by a railroad train. Woody Kelly was well known to the people of this town, especially by huners and fishermen. Being a game warden did not make any difference in his friendships with those who obeyed the law. He was 53 years of age, and was a member of the K. of P. fraternity. A number of Curwensville people will attend his funeral which will be held from his home in DuBois.

Messrs. Joe and Abe Whittaker, sons of Law S. Whittaker and Mose, son of Reuben Whittaker, have landed in this country and are expected home most any day now. All three were in the artillery and saw considerable service while on duty across the seas.

Mrs. G. W. Lutman who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mark Neucomer on the South Side for the past week, returned to her home at Coalport, Pa., on Sunday.

R. L. Leinbach of New Haven, Conn., and R. S. Paterson of Pittsburgh, representatives of the Crescent Refractories Company, are transacting business in town this week.

Mrs. George Harmick of Ridge avenue, is undergoing treatment at the Clearfield hospital which her many friends hope will be of much benefit to her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dunsmore have received word that their son Douglas, who has been with the A. E. F. for the past year and a half, landed in this country last Friday.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham Bonner

THE CAT'S MISTAKE.

"Me-ow, me-ow," said Blackie, the black cat, as he came down the walk.

So Blackie Started Off.

"Me-ow, me-ow," he said again. "I do believe I will look for adventures. I do believe I will see what I can see. I do believe I will have some fun and explore. By exploring I mean to go around and see some new place."

So Blackie started off. Now Blackie didn't know much about days. He thought all days were about the same. He knew that each day he was fed at about the same time. He knew that when he cried he got something extra to eat or drink.

He knew where he could chase mice, he knew where he could lie in the warm sunshine, and he knew that if it was raining there wasn't any sunshine at all.

He also knew that on the cold days it was delightful back of the kitchen stove, and that on the hot days it was very nice under a shady tree in the garden.

But he didn't know that Saturday was a holiday and that Sunday everyone went to church, except cats and dogs and very young children. Very young children went sometimes but cats and dogs never went.

He didn't care about doing anything on this particular day but exploring. And it was very early in the morning when the family were all asleep.

He walked around and he ran around and he looked in all directions. "I think I will go this way," he said.

So he walked on and when he came to a church he was hot and tired. "It looks cool in there," he said; "yes, it looks nice and cool me-ow, I think I will go inside."

So he wandered up the church aisle and he saw a nice place where he thought he would go to sleep. And where do you think, or rather, what do you think was the place Blackie chose for his nap?

As I don't think you will be able to guess right away and as I want to tell you what really happened, I will tell you the place Blackie chose for his nap.

It was in the organ. Well, he had a fine sleep. And he was still asleep when the organist came in and began to play.

Then, poor Blackie woke up with a start! At first he didn't know whether he was having a nightmare or a bad dream, or what was happening.

He moved to one side and the organ gave a curious rumble and a very funny sound and the organist looked as if he didn't know what the trouble could be, and the people stopped singing, and then tried to go on singing without any music.

The organist tried to play again and this awfully queer rumble and burr and buzz was heard once more. So the people went on finishing their singing without any organ.

Of course Blackie tried to move when he felt the pedals moving and he jumped over the inside stops and pedals and made these very strange sounds as he did so.

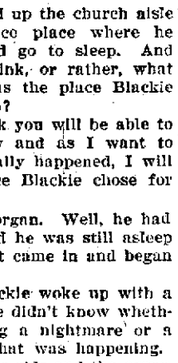
The organist looked inside the organ and saw nothing. Then, suddenly, he saw two big green eyes staring at him.

"It's a cat in there," he said to himself.

Poor Blackie was very much frightened. This was altogether too much. He liked adventures and he liked to explore but this was going too far.

"Yes, that is a cat," said the organist to himself, and Blackie's green eyes shone back at him when he said this.

"Come, pussy; come, nice pussy," said the organist in a whisper. Poor Blackie was so frightened he did not know what to do. Still the organist kept on coaxing and begging Blackie to come out. And after awhile Blackie felt less frightened and the soft whisper of the organist sounded very kind and Blackie came out from the inside of the church organ.



A Little Boy Took Him Out.

Oh, how happy he was when he was out and the organist got a little boy to lift him quietly and take him out of the church.

And what joy it was for Blackie to be back home again, to rest and have a nice sleep after his adventure, which had turned out to be such a mistake!

WOODLAND DOWNED BY FOURTH WARD

The Fourh Ward boys' club slipped out to Mineral Springs Park last evening to play a return game with the Woodland junior team. Woodland won in the first game here and the down town boys went out the State road with "blood in their eyes". They stopped at the old Indian mill above the Brett place and whetted their tomahawks and scalping knives on the sides of the bowl wherein our redskinned firs Americans ground their meal. It was "big medline," too, because our boys rudely tramped over the home team by a 6 to 3 score.

All the beauty and chivalry of Woodland reinforced by a few pronounced brunettes from Mineral Springs looked on and sighed at the slaughter.

The Clearfield boys scured a total of twelve hits, including a home run, six two-baggers and four singles. "Red" Graffius, the midget of the local team, was the chief slugger with two doubles and a single. "Spark Plug" Ivory was also a lady killed for our team. Woodland was able to garner but four measly singles off Notar's benders.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Clearfield.—Notar, p.; W. Voss, c.; Lynch, 1b.; Ivory, 2b.; Shade, 3b; Ray Graffius, ss.; Ulet, lff.; Minahan, cf.; Red Graffius, rf.

Woodland.—Wisor, p.; Rowles, c.; Polkinghorn, 1b.; Lansberry, 2b.; Adams, 3b.; Thomas, ss.; Turner, lf.; Herbert, cf.; Palmer, rf.

Quit Meat When Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys wil lact fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

ADVOCATES OF "MILD" RESERVATIONS ACTIVE

SEEK TO IMPRESS UPON PRESIDENT THE NECESSITY OF GETTING OUT OF THE WAY OF PROGRESS

LODGE WILL CONFER WITH THEM

By L. C. MARTIN
United Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—The "mild" reservationists today displayed new activity to hasten the ratification of the peace treaty. In line with the warning sounded by President Wilson that the high cost of living will not be down until there is real peace, conferences are being arranged between the senators who favor mild reservations and Lodge, leader of the "strong" reservationists. The object is to make the administration leaders see that the time has come to give calm consideration to the matter of protective reservations in order to get the treaty out of the way.

LEAGUE PLAN A COMPOSITE OF ALL DRAFTS SUBMITTED TO CONFERENCE

By L. C. MARTIN

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—"The league of nations covenant is a composite plan based upon the American, British, French and Italian drafts submitted to the peace conference," David Miller, expert on international affairs told the Senate Foreign Relations committee today. He declared the British plan prepared by General Smuts formed the foundation of the covenant. Miller said he attended all the meetings of the league of nations commission in Paris as a technical advisor. "Doesn't the proposed covenant closely follow Smut's plan?" asked Senator Lodge. "In some ways, yes, but it is really a comosite plan of the various schemes submitted," he replied. He explained that many of the clauses from the Bryan treaties were embodied in the league covenant, particularly the clauses requiring inquiry and arbitration before war; a cooling off period. In reply to questions, Miller admitted that he was a law partner of a son in law of Colonel House.

ROUMANIANS RESOLVE TO HOLD THE ENTENTE TO THEIR 1916 PROMISES

VIENNA, August 12—The Roumanian cabinet, according to reports received from Bucharest, has resolved not to evacuate the troops it has in Hungary until the Entente has redeemed the concessions made to Roumania in 1916 in return for her entry into the war. The Roumanians occupy the West of Hungary under the retext of protecting that territory from the inroads of the Bolsheviki.

BERLIN, August 12—Chairman Gregory of the American Food Commission in Budapest has sent a demand to the Roumanian army that it return the confiscated food ships. Such action is deemed necessary to save the people of Budapest from starvation.

ALL COMBAT TROOPS WILL BE OUT OF THE SERVICE BY OCTOBER 1ST

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 12—Demobilization of combat troops will be practically completed by October 1st, it was learned today, when the War Department announced permanent home camps for regular army divisions, as follows: First Division, Camp Taylor, Ky., Second Division, Camp Travis, Texas. Third Division, Camp Pike, Arkansas. Fourth Division, Camp Dodge, Iowa. Fifth Division, Camp Gordon, Ga. Sixth Division, Camp Grant, Ill. Seventh Division, Camp Funston, Kansas.

ANTI-REDS OF ARCHANGEL DISTRICT APPEAL TO ALLIES TO STAY THERE

PARIS, August 12—The anti-Bolshevik government of Archangel, Russia, has appealed to the Allies not to withdraw their armed forces from the Archangel territor. They declare that military, financial and railroad aid are absolutely necessary to save the entire north of Russia from the grip of Bolsheviki despoilers.

Negligent Neighbors

DONT KNOW YET HOW MUCH GAS HE HAD IN TANK

A Woodland man caused considerable of a flurry about the Central garage Saturday night last. The Woodlandite possessed a flivver and stabled the machine at the garage while shopping about town. When ready to go home he decided to load up a few gallons of gas and one of the employes of the garage was engaged in supplying his wants when the fireworks opened.

Gas, like barbering, is pretty high these days and as the indicator on the automatic gauge had been sliding up and dropping back for some time, the auto owner got anxious and deciding he had invested enough money struck a match and poked it in the direction of the gas tank to see how full it was. He just got his match headed in the direction of the tank at that. Then the fireworks. The fumes ignited and instantly the flivver was a pillar of fire. The garage attaches were on the job at once with their fire extinguishers and after succeeding in getting the flaming car out into the alley doused the flames inside and let the old car burn. It was some blaze for a little while.

Before starting to walk home the Woodlandite observed that when he got another car he would take the garage count for gas, as he found there was at least one case where seeing was a dangerous proposition.

BASEBALL FANS GETTING EXCITED

Interest in Thursday evening's championship baseball game continues to grow daily and tickets placed on sale about town yesterday are going like hot cakes.

Indications point to a very large crowd and as both teams are looking forward to the game with much more than ordinary interest "some clash" is sure to be the result. Philipsburg people think their team which has won 32 games without a defeat will cop the coin in this game, but Clearfield's "wise fans" are of the opinion that Big Rube Hagerty will stand them on their heads while DeHart's sluggers are putting over several runs or enough o "bring home the bacon". The "bacon" in this case is a $500 side bet—not an unhandy thing to have about the house in these days of high living and higher barbering.

The game will be called at 6 o'clock in the evening and that will give everybody a chance to take it in.

Admission, 50c; no war tax.

FINANCIAL AID IS PLANNED FOR ORIENT

The British, French, American and Japanese Governments have agreed to encourage the banks of their several nations in the formation of a new consortium for China. Information on the subject is that this latest agreement to loan China a large sum of money does not threaten any possible infringement of her sovereignty. All future loans to the Chinese government or individual provinces will be made by the group as a whole; the financing by the participating powers shall be pro rata.

Existing interests of the participating banks in China will be similarly pooled. In the opinion of the Herald of Asia, such a consortium will mean that particular nations will no longer have a predominating influence in certain parts of China. The editor of that journal summarizes Japanese press opinions and comments thereon.

The Tokio Cugai Shogyo wants to know how the doctrine will be applied to Japan's interests in Shantung and other parts of China. Reviewing the history of the organization of the new loan syndicate, the paper observes that America has no intention of refusing to rejoin the quadruple syndicate, neither is she willing to accept the invitation at once. Hence her counter-proposal for the formation of a new consortium. Therefore the question: Shall the new consortorium be regarded as an extension of the old quadruple syndicate?

MICKIE SAYS

LOYAL LEGION TO STEER AWAY FROM PARTY POLITICS

In an editorial on "Policies—No Politics", the current number of The American Legion Weekly, expresses The American Legion's stand on public policies and warns posts of the Legion throughout the country to avoid mingling in local partisan politics:

"Mingling in local politics is a temptation and pitfall which post throughout the country must avoid," says the veterans' magazine. "Everything bearing on partisan politics was put aside at the Paris caucus and again at the St. Louis caucus when the American Legion was founded. Partisan politics has been barred successfully from every consideration and step in the development of the Legion thus far. This must continue to be.

"No doubt wily politicians of every denomination will be courting the local posts. There will be crafty campaigns to procure an indorsement of this or that local issue or candidate for public office. It would be more than a blunder for a local post to engage in any such activity. It would be an act of bad faith. Policies not politics, is the watchword; and the policies are confined to the pronouncements of the St. Louis caucus and the temporary constitution, pending the great November caucus where all the men who were in service are to express themselves."

VENERAL QUARANTINE

The State Health Commissioner is empowered by a recently passed resolution of the advisory board of the State Health Department to quarantine cases of veneral disease when "in the opinion of the attending physician or the county representative of the State Department of Health the character, occupation, habits or neglect of treatment make those infected menaces to the public health." This is a radical step in the control of social disease in Pennsylvania, which has not heretofore come under the control of the State Health Department to this extent. Physicians are not required to report such cases, but the State authorities are empowered to establish quarantines the same as for any communicable or contagious disease where the conditions warrant, the usual penalties to apply for violation. The advisory board has also empowered the State Commissioner to regulate funerals, undertakers being forbidden to provide clothing, draperies, carpets, rugs or artificial flowers for funerals in private houses and restrictions are placed around funerals of chickenpox victims. All newspaper notices of such funerals must state the cause of death. Another resolution of the advisory board requires all householders, hotel or lodging house keepers to report all persons in their employ not being attended by a physiian who have any outbreaks on their skins, who have sore throats or violent coughing or are too sick to play or work. These names must be turned over to local health authorities for investigation.

SHOT FROM FALLEN GUN KILLS MAN HALF MILE AWAY

An unusually peculiar fatal shooting occured in the mountains of Southern Elk County between Benezette and Wilmer on Saturday evening when a Polish miner whose name could not be recalled by any of several sources in which it was sought, was killed by a bullet from a high powered gun accidentally discharged nearly a half mile away.

The Polander, who was a bachelor and lived in a shanty near Wilmer, had been hunting ground-hogs on Saturday evening, using a 22-calibre rifle. He had discovered a groundhog, and fearing the power of his gun to be too small to kill it, whistled to John Swackhammer, aged 24, who was nearly a half mile away on his way home after hunting, and carried a high powered rifle.

The Polish man attracted Swackhammer's attention and signalled him to come and shoot the animal. Swackhammer started toward him and had crawled over a stump fence and was passing between two roots, so Elk County Coroner S. E. Hayes learned at his investigation yesterday. Previous to passing over the fence, Swackhammer had placed a shell in the chamber of his gun, and as he extended the gun from him to evade the roots the weapon slipped from his hands and fell in the wedge between two roots, being discharged.

Swackhammer heard the Polander's cry and ran to his side, finding him dead. He had been shot through the back, the bullet coming out just above the heart. Swackhammer had not stopped to get his own gun but summoned neighbors and then gave himself up. The coroner's investigation was held yesterday and the gun was found in a position pointing exactly to the spot where the unfortunate man stood. The distance was measured and found to be 575 yards or nearly a third of a mile.

COMRADES LETTER TELLS OF HEROISM OF JAMES BALL

Houston, Texas,
Aug. 6th, 1919.

Mr. Frank L. Ball,
Clearield, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Your letter dated Feb. 28, 1919 addressed to me overseas came back to me here today and I take the first opportunity to answer.

James Ball was a corporal in my platoon and I knew him very well, he being immediately under my observation every day. I regret to learn of his death. Not until I received your letter did I hear of it. The reason for this being that at 9:30 Oct. 14th I was severely wounded and evacuated through our army hospitals and no news of the front came to me.

I wish I could inform you of the particulars of his wounds and suggest that you write to Joseph Cannon, Capt. 13th M. G. Bn., U. S. A., and he will inform you if you have not gotten the information.

James Ball was in my platoon first as a private and on taking La Frapelle in the Vosges mountains I called our captain's attention to his coolness and discretion in action, when he was promoted to corporal. He was a red-blooded, clear-brained boy. I saw him ten minutes before I was wounded in the Argonne battle and he was the same there as at St. Mihiel and the Vosges; cool and resourceful, in possession of himself, therefore in command of his squad.

You suffer sorrow but not regret for you are the proud kin of a boy who fought with the heart and soul of an American soldier and so he died.

Respectfully,
S. E. McHARD.

TOWNSHIPS GETTING ROAD MONEY FROM STATE THIS WEEK

HARRISBURG, August 12.—The State Highway Department today announced that payment of the cash tax bonus due townships in Clearfield county for the years 1913 and 1914 has been made by the state treasurer.

By Act of July 22, 1913, known as the "Jones Dirt Road Act" it was provided that the road tax in townships shall be collected in cash and no taxes shall be payable in labor or worked out. It was also provided that each township furnish a sworn annual report to the State Highway department showing all receipts and expenditures during the past year, and also a signed agreement showing the proposed method of expending funds received from the commonwealth. This, together with a copy of the treasurer's bond, entitled the township to receive its share of the annual bonus, which was intended to cover an annual reimbursement from the State of 50 per cent. of the total amount of road tax collected by the township as shown in the sworn statement, but not more than $20 per mile of township road.

By Act of June 3, 1915, the provisions of the Act of July 22, 1913, were suspended until all deficiencies incurred prior to the year 1915 be paid by the commonwealth of Pennsylvania. During the 1919 session of the legislature, an appropriation of $1,142,049.38 was made to pay in full all the deficiencies due the townships and the certification of this bonus to the State Treasurer for payment to the townships is now under way.

The amounts now being paid the townships in Clearfield county are as fololwa:

CLERKS WILL FORM UNION

Representatives of the clerks of Clearfield met last evening for purpose of devising ways and means looking toward the organization of a union among the clerks. A temporary organization was effected with Tom Lynch of the A. W. Lenardson Co. stores as chairman. A temporary committee on ways and means was appointed and they will canvass the clerks with a view to securing members for the proposed organization.

A meeting for permanent organization will be held in No. 1 Fire companys hall on Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock and every clerk in the town is urged to attend or affiliate with the local union. The purpose of the organization is to safeguard and secure better working conditions for the clerks.

$100 A THROW—IN CLEARFIELD AT THAT

Our Religious Editor is of the opinion that there are some Clearfield people for whom the high cost of living has no terrors. He arrived at this conclusion following an experience he had yesterday morning before 9 o'clock. While meandering down our principal business thoroughfare within the shadow of the county seat of justice the religious one's attention was attracted to a group of young men standing in the market place idle. That is all were idle but one fellow in the group. This lad was down on one knee rolling something out of his hand onto the ground, while his companions were huddled over him watching with eager eyes the objects the first fellow was dashing about. These objects were two white cubes with various little black eyes scattered over their many sided half inch faces.

The operator on his knee was working like a ditch digger while beads of perspiration stood upon his brow. As he rolled the little squares he gave vent to peculiar cries or wails, such as "'Oh, baby!" "Only one mile from home," "Come on seven" "faded," "crap."

Just then the interested group separated enough for the curious interloper to note a bundle of greenbacks on the ground in front of the player and as this worthy arose to his feet one of the others gathered up the coin and a third party chimed in with "I'll shoot you a hundred." Out came more greenbacks and learning then that this was some newfangled game of chance where the players were wagering $50 and $100 per shot, the unbidden spectator departed in search of a policeman.

But what do you know of a crap game within a couple of hundred feet of the court house in broad daylight with the stakes ranging as high as $50 and $100 per throw. Some sports! What? We'll say so.

TOMMYROT

A few foolish radicals are talking of a revolution in the United States.

We may pause for a moment to ask what is the purpose of a revolt, the answer to which is that the only thing a revolt can accomplish is to give the people—all the people, not a part of the people—the right to vote for the kind of officials and the kind of laws they want.

In the United States the right of manhood suffrage is universal. The people have already precisely the kind of officials a ma- sal. The people have already precisely the kind of officials a ma- the kind of men we, the people elect.

Those who chatter of revolt, are a small minority, and minority rule will never prevail in this country. If there ever is to be any fighting in the United States it will be to keep a minority from gaining control of the government; let there be no mistake about that.

With all our faults we still have by far the best government in the world. The people know that and anybody who tries to overturn what thousands have died to create and save would receive mighty short shrift and the sooner they understand that the better.

Revolt in the United States?
Who would revolt and for what?
Tommyrot!

Carnegie Rivaled Franklin As An Author of Epigrams

Andrew Carnegie, like Benjamin Franklin, could turn an epigram neatly. Some of the more famous of them follow:

Wealth lessens rather than increases human happiness.
Millionaires who laugh are rare.
Dealing with petty affairs tends to make small men; dealing with larger affairs broadens and strengthens character.

A chaperon's duties are often most successfully performed by a wise and salutary neglect.

A great man settles things; a small one nibbles away at petty reforms.

As far as I have known millionaires, the library is the least used part of what he would probably consider "furniture" in his mansion.

Two women, my mother and my wife, made me all that I am.

Put all your eggs in one basket and then watch that basket.

Jewels are to woman what wine is to man—not recommended till after forty, and a poor help at any age.

You cannot push any one up a ladder unless he is willing to climb a little himself.

It seems to me it is not God but men who are disposed to make the path so very thorny.

People never appreciate what is wholly given to them so highly as that to which they themselves contribute.

I always pity the sons and daughters of rich men, who are attended by servants and have governesses at a later age, but am glad to remember that they do not know what they have missed.

It is the stagnant pool of Contentment, not the running stream of Ambition, that breeds disease in the body social and political.

There is one difference between the parties in the republic—the one is in and the other is out.

No man is a true gentleman who does not inspire the affection and devotion of his servants.

If a man would eat, he must work A life of elegant leisure is the life of an unworthy citizen. The republic does not owe him a living; it is he who owes the republic a life of usefulness. Such is the republican idea.

Today's Political Review

William P. F. Ferguson, recognized for twenty years as the leading editorial writer in the Prohibition party in the nation, announces that he will register as a Republican for the forthcoming election. He makes the announcements in the News-Herald, Franklin's only daily newspaper, of which he is editor. Ferguson was formerly editor of the Voice, the New Voice, the Defender and the National Prohibitionist, all Prohibition party organs in the United States, and was the choice of Michigan and Wisconsin and half of the Pennsylvania delegation for President in 1916.

Just about one hundred hungry Democrats will have to bow the knee to the "most high and mighty" to get in on the census enumeration. Of course there will be at least that many "willin" and hard to tell how many more who will be sore as boils that they do not get the job. The fellows who thought they would get the job of supervisor will hardly be applicants for the job of enumerator. It is interesting to note that the population of the four counties in this district, Centre, Clearfield, McKean and Cameron, was 192,704 in 1910. Those Democrats always get the best of things. There will be more noses to count this time.

The political registration for Clearfield county is not yet available owing to the lateness of the registration period in our one third class city. It is a safe bet though that the Republican ranks are going to be greatly augmented. A lot of fellows are staying within the narrow confines of the Democratic party for the sole purpose of getting a crack at party leaders in the coming primaries but a lot more of them are going to pack their handbag and get out at once.

The last day for filing nomination papers is not nearly here yet for county offices and it will not be at all surprising to see new "hopes" appear at the last moment. Would-be bosses in both major parties have been casting about for some time in an effort to pick winners for the various offices. Those who would be glad to have support lack calibre and those who look like good vote getters know that they can paddle their own canoe better without taking on any ballast. In desperation it is possible that a new line-up will appear on the horizon.

Deliberate robbery is the only name that can be used in connection with the popular pastime of soliciting candidates for their card to appear on hotel menus, time tables, information cards, festival tilkets, etc. The candidate cannot refuse to cough up so he always does. Such practices should be prohibited by law. An honest man with only a little money has a small chance under such conditions. It isn't that the cards do him a bit of good but rather that the thief spreads the news broadcast that so-and-so refused to buy the space.

All returned service men who were not assessed and have not paid the usual tax or been registered for voting purposes will be privileged to vote under an Act of Assembly approved by Governor Sproul on July 1th last by the payment to the tax collector of the district wherein they desire to vote of a tax of 10 cents. In addition to this ten cent tax payment the person desiring to vote must satisfy the election board that he had been in the army or navy during the time claimed and which service interfered with his registration and regular tax payment.

Ther record for long-distance "lone hand" automobile touring is claimed for Mrs. Maud M. White, who motored alone from Rochester, N. Y., to Miami, Okla., thence to Brantford, Ont., to visit her mother, and from Brantford returned to her home on Rochester.

A Frenchman has made successful experiments with the smallest aeroplane existing, called the "mosquito." It measures only four yards from wing-tip to wing-tip and has a twenty horsepower engine. It flew for an hour at an altitude of 5000 feet.

[National Crop Improvement Service.]

NOW is the time to look for diseases of plants and vegetables and you must remember next spring where the damage has occurred.

Onion smut is a disease which lives in the ground. It appears on the young plants, which are stunted, as numerous blisters which are filled with a black powder.

An attachment has been devised to use with an ordinary drill which drops formaldehyde solution, one pint to 30 gallons of water, at the time the seed is put in the ground.

But do not overlook the condition of your plants now and do not repeat the same crop on the same land if you can avoid it. Cabbage black rot, club root and black leg may all be treated in like manner.

In addition you must treat the seed just previous to planting (one ounce formaldehyde solution in 2½ gallons of water or one teaspoonful to one pint of water).

The same treatment is efficacious for cucumber root rot.

Learn to know these diseases so that you can avoid them in the spring.

Onion smut often takes over fifty per cent of the crop.

In Wisconsin a sick field was treated, which afterward yielded 328 bushels of onions on an acre. The average amount of smut on the surrounding untreated fields was 47 per cent and on the treated fields only 5 per cent.

This is the difference between success and failure.

MOTOR TRUCKS TO AID ROADS

Government to Give Army Equipment Valued at $45,000,000 to State Highway Departments.

More than $45,000,000 worth of motor trucks are about to be distributed by the secretary of agriculture through the bureau of public roads to the state highway departments. These trucks have been declared surplus by the war department and are being distributed to the states under the provisions of section 7 of the post office appropriation bill. They must be used by the states on roads constructed in whole or in part by federal aid, for which $200,000,000 in addition to the former appropriation was given to the states under the same bill. All that the states must do to acquire the use of these 20,000 trucks, which range in capacity from two to five tons, is to pay the loading and freight charges.

Of the 20,000 motor vehicles to be acquired practically free by the states 11,000 are new and 9,000 are used, but all are declared to be in serviceable condition. The motors will be apportioned to states only upon request of the state highway departments on the basis of the requests received from the respective states, and in accordance with the apportionment provided in the federal aid law approved in 1916. The requirements of the laws are such that the bureau of public roads cannot distribute any trucks to counties or individuals.

FARMERS FAVOR GOOD ROADS

Recognized as Greatest Economic Need of Agricultual Communities in Eastern States.

Good roads are the greatest economic need for agricultural communities. This is the answer of 200 prominent farmers of the state of Maine to questionnaires which asked them to summarize urgent necessities to bring their districts up to the desired economic standard.

The farmers who answered the questionnaires were selected as those best fitted to answer the questions, and they were asked to furnish a digest of the situation in their respective communities with reference to acreage, crops, farm improvements, civic and social conditions, etc.

The definitions of the greatest needs covered a wide and interesting range. The largest record of needs was good roads, 85 emphasizing the urgent necessity of adequate highways. There were 45 who asked for more farm laborers, 44 for co-operative buying and selling, 35 for better school privileges, 29 for more blueblooded stock, 29 for manufacturing plants, 29 for better marketing facilities, and 21 for greater credit extensions by banks.

ROADS AS DIVIDEND PAYERS

Where Good Roads Enable Farmer to Save One Hour Per Week He Makes Big Gain in Year.

If a farmer saves an hour a week by being enabled to use good roads as opposed to bad roads, it would mean 52 hours a year; estimating the use of man and team as being worth $6 a day, this means a saving of $31.20 a year.

Suppose his farm is assessed at $10,000, and the additional tax levy due to the issue of road bonds by the county runs to $1 per thousand, which would mean $10 a year additional taxes as against a saving of $31.20 on time alone. This means that he is investing $10 and drawing dividends of $31.20, an interest rate of 312 per cent.

TEXAS TO BUILD HIGHWAYS

According to Member of State Highway Commission Approximately $12,000,000 Available.

Approximately $12,000,000 is available for road construction work in Texas in 1919, according to R. M. Hubbard, a member of the state highway commission. This amount includes about $10,000,000 from the federal post office appropriation bills.

BERLIN MOST WIDE OPEN CITY IN THE WORLD. A GAMBLING RIOT

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN. (By Mail.)—A sort of "devil-may-care" spirit pervades Berlin.

It undoubtedly arises from the let-down after four years of war. And it manifests iself in a wild pursuit of pleasure. Champagne and gambling are the main objects upon which pleasure-craving Berlin directs its attention, seeking surcease from the the past.

Berlin may lack food, but it doesn't lack for amusements. A vast class of rich folks are going through their money with a surprising rapidily, while many persons of more moderate means have caught the infection and are cutting into savings of a lifetime to satisfy the almost universal desire for pleasure.

Even the "reds," who are supposed to be very poverty stricken, have a trace of the spirit, as was instanced recently when a Spartacus party was announced for one of the suburbs, with the statement that there'd be plenty to drink and much to eat. In short, the circular stated practically, that though the people were poor they were going to spend what they had with a lavishness and abandon. There was to be food such as a rationed people were not supposed to be able to obtain, and there was to be drink galore, and the guests were to stay as long as they saw fit.

As a result of this spirit, the city is fairly alive with cafes and dance halls. There is generally little, or poor, food in these places, but the habitues buy wine with a recklessness that would make even a wealthy Chicago packer or a Pittsburgh steel magnate dizzy.

As for gambling, Berlin at present is probably the widest-open city in the world. Men and women play for stakes of thousands of marks, and seem to get little thrill over either a winning or losing.

The whole spirit of this pleasure-mad crowd is one of forced gayety. There is none of the sparkle to it that one experiences among the French. It is simply a sort of stunned let down, a case of saying, virtually, "Well, the game has been played out; we've lost, and what do we care now." It constitutes a moral relaxation that has in it the essence of national breakdown provided the present regime continues.

Berlin doesn't care. That's the answer with thousands who have money, and thousands who have a little.

Scorch Marks.

If not too severe scorch marks are most effectually remedied by soaking the part in cold water and exposing to the rays of the sun, moistening afresh as it dries, until the blemish disappears.

To remove scorch from linen, put two ounces of fuller's earth into a saucepan, add half an ounce of white soap, the juice of two large onions and one cupful of vinegar. Boil together for a few minutes, strain into a jar, and keep covered for future use. Spread on the scorched parts with a knife, and allow it to dry on. The stain will soon disappear. If the garment is scorched with ironing, rub a lump of dry starch on the mark. Then sponge it off. Repeat till the yellow disappears.

Iron-Mold and Dry-Ink Stains.

Iron-mold and dry-ink stains may be removed by placing the stained material in a hot solution of salts of sorrel or salts of lemon, and leaving it to steep until they disappear; or by placing the stained part over a basin and pouring boiling water through to moisten the stain, which enables the chemical action to take place more rapidly. Then a small quantity of salts of lemon or salts of sorrel should be placed on the stain and rubbed firmly in, and boiling water again poured through. If the first application does not remove it, the process must be repeated. If the iron mold is due to old iron rust, neither of the above-mentioned chemicals may remove it successfully. A pinch of oxalic acid, which is a strong chemical, may then have the desired effect. It is used in exactly the same manner as salts of lemon but it must be used with great care, as it is injurious to fabrics.

To remove ink stains from white material before the ink is quite dry, sprinkle with salt and rub with half a lemon. Rinse off the acid and wash at once. When ink stains are dry, but fresh, they may be removed by dipping the stained part in buttermilk, or milk that has been boiled; change the milk frequently, then wash the article well.

To Remove Iron Rust.

Spots of iron rust which are so likely to be found on white dresses and aprons may be easily removed in the following way: Place a small lump of cream of tartar on the spot of iron rust, and tie up the dress goods so as to hold the cream of tartar on the spot. Do the same to all the spots of iron rust and put the clothes into the boiler. After boiling, the clothes will be perfectly white and free from spots.

Sports Handkerchiefs.

Sports handkerchiefs may be said to be a bit lurid. Some of them have dared to be made of bright plaid linens, green and blue plaid being among the favorites. Other sports handkerchiefs are in plain bright colors with hand-rolled hems whipped in either white or black threads, with blocked monograms also in white or black.

White Trims Dark Hats.

Black hats and navy hats are seen this summer with white as a favorite trimming. There may be a white facing, a wide or narrow brim, with several big snowy wings springing at different angles from one point on the side of the crown.

Ford

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Ford cars are important servants everywhere. They help the family enjoy life, bring the pleasures and advantages of the town within reach of the farmer and give practical service every day in country and town. They require a minimum of attention; any one can run the Ford and care for it, but it is better to have repairs and replacements taken care of by those who are familiar with the work and have the tools, the genuine materials, and skilled men to do the work promptly. We pledge Ford owners the reliable Ford service with real Ford parts and standard Ford prices.

"MOISTURE is the keynote of a successful garden and yet it is left to chance more than any other one essential. If plants are eaten by bugs or wilted by blight, the gardener is at once up in arms but he still depends upon providence to bring him rain long after the time when the plants have begun to suffer.

"The be-ribboned lady in a shepherdess hat with blue bows tied to a sprinkling can, who appears on the cover of our garden magazines, is responsible for a good deal of misinformation. Her dribbling sprinkling does the plants more harm than good.

"Do not water your vegetable garden nightly with a sprinkling shower from the hose.

"Dig trenches along the side of your vegetable rows and around your fruit trees. Arrange to have your water supply high enough to irrigate thoroughly and a soaking once a week, when the sun is not shining (early morning and evening is best) will restore the vitality and get pep to your plants," says Mr. Frank Bancke, vice-president, American Steel & Wire company.

"When it is considered that the alchemy of nature makes foliage and fruit out of a few mineral substances, sunshine and moisture, be sure that the conditions are right to help nature.

"Water you garden but give it plenty while you are watering. A little sprinkling will do a great deal of damage. Watch the surface of your grounds and do not let cracks form. After soaking as soon as cracks begin to appear, pulverize with a cultivator or hoe, keeping your mulch. Crops are mostly made of water. You must supply the water if nature fails."

Get Your Car Re-Finished Now!

By the way we are getting orders for re-finishing cars we would naturally gather that everyone that reads these advertisements wants to have his car re-finished "just as soon as the season is over."

May we suggest to you that you deny yourself a few days pleasure and have our car re-finished before this rush starts? You're going to have to wait if you don't.

Camel Cigarettes

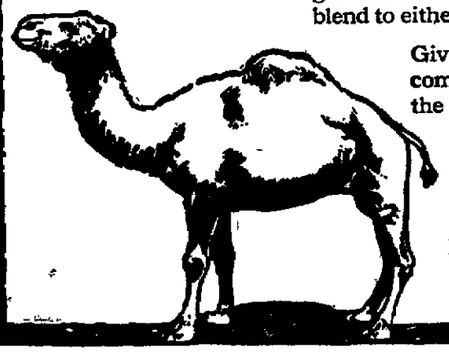
18 cents a package

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes, or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

They Win You On Quality!

Your enjoyment of Camels will be very great because their refreshing flavor and fragrance and mellowness is so enticingly different. You never tasted such a cigarette! Bite is eliminated and there is a cheerful absence of any unpleasant cigaretty after-taste or any unpleasant cigaretty odor!

Camels are made of an expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos and are smooth and mild, but have that desirable full-body and certainly hand out satisfaction in generous measure. You will prefer this Camel blend to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!



Give Camels the stiffest tryout, then compare them with any cigarette in the world at any price for quality, flavor, satisfaction. No matter how liberally you smoke Camels they will not tire your taste!

HEINZ READY FOR FAIR PRICE JOB

PITTSBURGH, August 12—Howard Heinz, former State Food Administrator, announced today that he was prepared to act along the lines suggested by District Attorney Crawford. Former county food administrator will be asked to form a "fair price" committee. This committee will be made up of representatives of retailers, wholesalers, producers, laborers and housewives. The committee will have no power to fix prices but will designate prices for necessities which they believe to be fair to all concerned. Publication of these fair price lists would prevent the profiteer from taking advantage of conditions.

NO INCREASE IN FOOD STORAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA

HARRISBURG, August 12—Storage of food in Pennsylvania has not increased noticeably during the last two years, James Foust, Secretary of the Dairy and Food Commission announced today. Commissioner Faust said that at the close of the last report there were seventeen million eggs in storage, about two dozen per capita. Since that time eggs and large quantities of meats, butter and foods were being dispensed in large quantities.

PERSHING GOING TO ROME

BULLETIN. PARIS, August 12—General Pershing will leave for Italy next Saturday visiting Rome and the battlefields. He will start home about the first week in September.

Ready-Mades for Little Maids

As mothers become busier, or less inclined to spend time in sewing, in order to give it to other affairs, they have learned to look to the specialist to help them out with frocks and other clothes for children. And manufacturers have met the growing demand for ready-made or partly-made clothes, by turning out examples of good designing, in practical materials, that the most gifted amateur cannot hope to excel. Even those mothers who prefer to have the children's clothes made at home, look to the display of children's frocks made in the shops for models to guide them. Wraps they nearly always buy ready made.

Since the school girl must be outfitted by the time September appears over time's horizon, dresses and wraps for her make their entry in July. These forerunners of fall styles this year show that the neat effects that were featured in spring have come to stay a while, all because they were so heartily welcomed. They mark an advance in taste and are useful in educating the little girls themselves to like neatness. A fine sense of clothes is sometimes inborn, but oftener it is acquired unconsciously by the fortunate daughter of a discriminating mother. Neatness is the outstanding merit of the frock and wrap shown in the picture above.

The little girl at the left wears a dress of black and white checked woolen goods made with a plaited skirt and a wrap that inherits its style from the spring season. It is a coat and cape combined with buttons for ornament and has a small cape collar overlaid with silk. It will be noticed that it is longer than the dress (which is knee length) in the cape portion, and that the shorter coat is belted across the front. There are very practical set-in pockets on each side.

The frock of cotton poplin at the right might be made of chambray, gingham, or other sturdy cotton goods, or in plain wools. It is a pretty design with bodice simulating a jacket and a plaited skirt. Small buttons and a childish collar, set off by very simple embroidered sprays, that are repeated on the bottom of the jacket, reveal the ideas of a designer who has no superiors. They are the signature of trained talent.

PRIMARY ELECTION INFORMATION

The primary election will be held on Tuesday, September 16th, 1919.

The last day for filing nomination certificates with the County Commissioners is Tuesday, August 19th.

The primary law provides that petitions for nomination for all borough or township offices must contain the signatures of at least ten electors or voters of the district wherein the candidate resides. The affidavit of the candidate must be attached to the petition.

Blank nominating petitions can be secured from the Commissioners and in no case can a candidate get his name printed on the primary ballot except he comply with the primary law as stated.

Therefore all candidates for local borough or township offices must secure these blanks and have them signed, properly sworn to and filed with the County Commissioners before August 19th to secure a place on the primary ballot.

In some instances local caucuses have been held and names suggested for borough or township offices and this list of names sent to the commissioners. This will not do, as in each case such lists must be returned and the proper procedure gone thru.

Get your primary petitions, have at least ten voters sign, each have the proper affidavit made before a Justice of the Peace or Notary Public and then file same at the County Commissioners' office and the names of such candidates will be printed on the primary ballot. That is the law and must be obeyed. We have no other option in the matter.

Under new legislation the above rule applies to DuBois City.

By order of
The County Commissioners.

RAILROAD STRIKES OF THE PAST

No attempt at a national railroad strike in the United States has ever succeeded.

The first great railroad strike, in 1877, involved only three roads, the Baltimore and Ohio, the Pennsylvania and the Erie.

In 1887 thirty thousand employees of the Reading railroad went on strike for an advance in wages. The men remained out two months, during which time the aggregate loss to them in wages amounted to $3,600,000.

Following the disastrous strike of 1877 there was no great strike on American railroads until 1886, when the employes of the Missouri Pacific system were ordered out by Martin Jones. This strike involved nearly 10,000 men lasted two months and resulted in a heavy financial loss.

One of the shortest railroad strikes on record occurred in 1890, when a general strike was declared by employes of the New York Central lines against the dismissal of men who belonged to the Knights of Labor. The differences were speedily adjusted and within two days the men returned to work.

At the time of the great railroad strike in 1894 President Cleveland sent Federal troops to Chicago despite the objections of Governor Altgeld of Illinois, and the disorders were quelled, but not until the railroads had lost nearly a million in property destroyed and more than four millions in earnings, while the loss to strikers and to shippers also reached far into the millions.

Following the railroad strike of 1894 President Cleveland appointed a commission to investigate the nature and causes of the strike. This commission, headed by Carrol D. Wright, then commissioner of labor, suggested that something like government control must be exercised over quas-public corporations and, though not composed of Socalists, cautiously hinted that government ownership might be undertaken at the proper time.

In the railroad strike of 1877 President Hayes, after issuing two proclamations, finaly sent federal troops into Maryland, West Virginia and Pennsylvania. The rioters gave way before that force without bloodshed. But there were disturbances as far west as Chicago where 19 men were killed. The deaths at Scranton numbered three and the mayor narrowly escaped being killed. At Reading machine shops and warehouses were burned and pillaged and nearly a dozen persons were killed.

The American Railway union strike of 25 years ago, which originated in the town of Pullman on account of a cut in wages and the laying off of many men at a time when business was dull, was of greater consequence than any previous labor disturbance and for a time threatened to tie up the entire transportation system of the United States. The strike spread through half a dozen western states, but during the whole of the troubles the eastern roads were but little affected.

FAMILY REUNION AND PICNIC

Elijah Plympton with his two grandsons William and Glenn, of Elwood City, Pa., have been visiting relatives and friends here for the past two weeks. His four sisters, namely, Mrs. Frank Smeal, Mrs. McElvain, Mrs. Geo. Gearhart, and Mrs. M. G. Brown, together with their families, passed the word around to meet at the Clearfield Driving Park on last Thursday evening. Accordingly they all arrived at the place about six o'clock with well filled baskets and soon a table was spread with a sumptuous feast surrounded by about seventy-five relatives who enjoyed the occasion immensely. After the supper the evening was spent in social conversation and renewing old friendships, when all departed for their homes hoping to meet at another like occasion at some future time.

INFORMATION FOR SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES FOR VOTING PRIVILEGES

The present session of legislature has made provision whereby any soldier, sailor or marine in service, or who has served in the army or navy of the United States and who has returned to his home, shall be entitled to vote in his respective election district even though he has not been assessed and has not paid the usual taxes, or is not personally registered in the district in which he resides, provided that such election at which he offers to vote shall occur at such time as has prevented him from being assessed and from having paid his usual taxes and where the same is neecessary from having been personally registered after his return to his home as is required in the case of an elector by the constitution.

The provision of this Act requires that he shall produce to the election officer a receipt from the proper tax collector setting forth that such person has paid a county tax of ten cents (10c). The several tax collectors are authorized to receive such tax of ten cents.

All that is necessary for a soldier, sailor or marine who has returned after the registration period in townships and boroughs is for him to pay ten cents to the tax collector in his voting distict, secure a tax receipt for that amount, and be prepared to present it to the election board on day of the election.

The same rule applies to DuBois City except that he should present his tax receipt to the Registrar of his voting precinct on one of the days for registration of voters in Third Class Cities.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

CURWENSVILLE

Joe Jenkins, who is employed by the Pennsylvania railroad, with headquarters in Pittsburgh, is home for a short vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Jenkins.

George Phillips, a former Curwensville boy but who for the past two years has been employed at Detroit, Mich., arrived in town yesterday for a visit with relatives and friends. He says that there is employment for everybody who wants to work in that city.

Mrs. H. T. Hewitson, who has been visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Clute for some time left for her home in Philadelphia yesterday. Her mother, Mrs. E. M. Thompson and sister Mrs. Clute accompanied her on her journey as far as Tyrone, making the trip in a motor car.

The Progress correspondent neglected to record the game of ball played between the Patton club and the home team at Athletic Park last Friday, in which the Curwensville fellows were thrashed to a finish, the visitors winning by a score of 13 to 7. It was a snappy game throughout nevertheless.

During the heavy electric storm the latter part of last week lightning struck the upper bay window in the house occupied by Billy McClure on the knob and took the sash out as clean as though it had been done by a first class mechanic.

Burgess Traister has issued instructions to Chief of Police Clark to enforce the neglected curfew ordinance. The burgess, who is a great lover of the kiddies and wants to see them having a good time as long as they can, has fixed the hour of home going at 10 o'clock instead of at 9 as the law reads. He is going to allow them to enjoy this extra hour until school starts and after that time 9 o'clock mandate will be strictly enforced.

The new motor fire engine or truck arrived last Friday, and on Saturday evening Mr. B. Raymond, who represents the LaFrance company at Elmira, and who came here two or three days before the engine arrived, had the machine out on the streets and ran it up some of the hills. It worked like a charm, as some of the local firemen claim who acompanied it and rode on the truck. Saturday it was on the road again, and according to Assistant Postmaster Verne Bloom's version the engine can easily throw a stream of water over the sun, moon and stars. By the time the final test is made there will be enough of the local firemen sufficiently conversant with the mechanism of the machine to handle it successfully and run it up the highest grades witin the borough limits in case of fire.

At a recent meeting of the school board Prof. Santee was chosen to teach one of the departments in our public schools. The Professor needs no letters of introduction to Curwensville people as he was a teacher here when he was notified to join the colors for a march over the seas.

A little two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Milliron died at the Clearfield hospital Monday afternoon. The body was brought to the home of his parents on Ridge avenue. The funeral was held this afternoon, interment being made in Oak Hill cemetery. Rev. Biddle, of the M. E. Church conducted the services.

There has been a good deal of comment round and about about how our big Labor Day celebration is going to be conducted. One false rumor has been spread to the effect that the committee in charge of the grounds are going to charge admittance and also for anyone who might want to enjoy the amusements. This is false, as there will be no money asked from any one for either. As we understand the arrangement everything will be free to all. It might be that automobiles will not be allowed to enter the grounds, for the reason that so many of the gasoline vehicles running in and out would be a menace to life and limb of the children, and to older ones as well. Clearfield people are coming, DuBois people will be on hand and in fact people from almost every town in the county will be here, knowing before hand that Curwensville will do just as it advertises to do—give them a royal welcome and a good time.

Mrs. O. H. Chapin, who has been confined to her bedroom for the past two or three weeks, was able to be down stairs yesterday, and out on the porch where she was heartily greeted by her many friends.

The Pregress yesterday evening brot to Curwensville people the sad news of the untimely death of Woody Kelly, which occurred near Warren, Dr. Kalbfus, of Harrisburg, also meeting his death. Both men were killed by having their automobile hit by a railroad train. Woody Kelly was well known to the people of this town, especially by huners and fishermen. Being a game warden did not make any difference in his friendships with those who obeyed the law. He was 53 years of age, and was a member of the K. of P. fraternity. A number of Curwensville people will attend his funeral which will be held from his home in DuBois.

Messrs. Joe and Abe Whittaker, sons of Law S. Whittaker and Mose, son of Reuben Whittaker, have landed in this country and are expected home most any day now. All three were in the artillery and saw considerable service while on duty across the seas.

Mrs. G. W. Lutman who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Mark Neucomer on the South Side for the past week, returned to her home at Coalport, Pa., on Sunday.

R. L. Leinbach of New Haven, Conn., and R. S. Paterson of Pittsburgh, representatives of the Crescent Refractories Company, are transacting business in town this week.

Mrs. George Harmick of Ridge avenue, is undergoing treatment at the Clearfield hospital which her many friends hope will be of much benefit to her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Dunsmore have received word that their son Douglas, who has been with the A. E. F. for the past year and a half, landed in this country last Friday.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

by Mary Graham Bonner

THE CAT'S MISTAKE.

"Me-ow, me-ow," said Blackie, the black cat, as he came down the walk.

So Blackie Started Off.

"Me-ow, me-ow," he said again. "I do believe I will look for adventures. I do believe I will see what I can see. I do believe I will have some fun and explore. By exploring I mean to go around and see some new place."

So Blackie started off. Now Blackie didn't know much about days. He thought all days were about the same. He knew that each day he was fed at about the same time. He knew that when he cried he got something extra to eat or drink.

He knew where he could chase mice, he knew where he could lie in the warm sunshine, and he knew that if it was raining there wasn't any sunshine at all.

He also knew that on the cold days it was delightful back of the kitchen stove, and that on the hot days it was very nice under a shady tree in the garden.

But he didn't know that Saturday was a holiday and that Sunday everyone went to church, except cats and dogs and very young children. Very young children went sometimes but cats and dogs never went.

He didn't care about doing anything on this particular day but exploring. And it was very early in the morning when the family were all asleep.

He walked around and he ran around and he looked in all directions. "I think I will go this way," he said.

So he walked on and when he came to a church he was hot and tired. "It looks cool in there," he said; "yes, it looks nice and cool me-ow, I think I will go inside."

So he wandered up the church aisle and he saw a nice place where he thought he would go to sleep. And where do you think, or rather, what do you think was the place Blackie chose for his nap?

As I don't think you will be able to guess right away and as I want to tell you what really happened, I will tell you the place Blackie chose for his nap.

It was in the organ. Well, he had a fine sleep. And he was still asleep when the organist came in and began to play.

Then, poor Blackie woke up with a start! At first he didn't know whether he was having a nightmare or a bad dream, or what was happening.

He moved to one side and the organ gave a curious rumble and a very funny sound and the organist looked as if he didn't know what the trouble could be, and the people stopped singing, and then tried to go on singing without any music.

The organist tried to play again and this awfully queer rumble and burr and buzz was heard once more. So the people went on finishing their singing without any organ.

Of course Blackie tried to move when he felt the pedals moving and he jumped over the inside stops and pedals and made these very strange sounds as he did so.

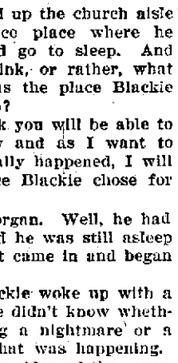
The organist looked inside the organ and saw nothing. Then, suddenly, he saw two big green eyes staring at him.

"It's a cat in there," he said to himself.

Poor Blackie was very much frightened. This was altogether too much. He liked adventures and he liked to explore but this was going too far.

"Yes, that is a cat," said the organist to himself, and Blackie's green eyes shone back at him when he said this.

"Come, pussy; come, nice pussy," said the organist in a whisper. Poor Blackie was so frightened he did not know what to do. Still the organist kept on coaxing and begging Blackie to come out. And after awhile Blackie felt less frightened and the soft whisper of the organist sounded very kind and Blackie came out from the inside of the church organ.



A Little Boy Took Him Out.

Oh, how happy he was when he was out and the organist got a little boy to lift him quietly and take him out of the church.

And what joy it was for Blackie to go back home again, to rest and have a nice sleep after his adventure, which had turned out to be such a mistake!

WOODLAND DOWNED BY FOURTH WARD

The Fourh Ward boys' club slipped out to Mineral Springs Park last evening to play a return game with the Woodland junior team. Woodland won in the first game here and the down town boys went out the State road with "blood in their eyes". They stopped at the old Indian mill above the Brett place and whetted their tomahawks and scalping knives on the sides of the bowl wherein our redskinned firs Americans ground their meal. It was "big mediine," too, because our boys rudely tramped over the home team by a 6 to 3 score.

All the beauty and chivalry of Woodland reinforced by a few pronounced brunettes from Mineral Springs looked on and sighed at the slaughter.

The Clearfield boys scured a total of twelve hits, including a home run, six two-baggers and four singles. "Red" Graffius, the midget of the local team, was the chief slugger with two doubles and a single. "Spark Plug" Ivory was also a lady killed for our team. Woodland was able to garner but four measly singles off Notar's benders.

The two teams lined up as follows:

Clearfield.—Notar, p.; W. Voss, c.; Lynch, 1b.; Ivory, 2b.; Shade, 3b; Ray Graffius, ss.; Ulet, lff.; Minahan, cf.; Red Graffius, rf.

Woodland.—Wisor, p.; Rowles, c.; Polkinghorn, 1b.; Lansberry, 2b.; Adams, 3b.; Thomas, ss.; Turner, lf.; Herbert, cf.; Palmer, rf.

Who Have Not Bought SUITS Should Get These at ONE-HALF

If we could impress on you the situation in the suit business as our buyer sees it, these suits that we are offering at half their marked prices would not last thru tomorrow's selling. These suits, if bought while the one-half prices are in force, will mean a clean saving of from $30.00 to $40.00 over what they are going to cost you if you wait until Fall. Never before, in the history of the suit business, has summer buying been as imperative to women who want to dress well, economically, as this summer.

May we urge you to come while the suit that fits you and that you may like is here?

Quit Meat When Kidneys Bother

Take a glass of Salts if your Back hurts or Bladder troubles you

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys wil lact fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

TRINITY METHODIST

The members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Trinity Methodist church are reminded of the monthly meeting to be held at the parsonage Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Miss Lola Parks has returned to Lawsonham, Pa., after spending her vacation with her parents.

There are over 4,000 debutantes awaiting their British Majesties during the present season. This, of course, is the result of there having been no drawing rooms during the years of the war. Since it would be impossible for so many presentations to be carried out in the old formal style, the order has gone forth that there will be a series of afternoon parties, and that the presentations will be made in mourning and not court dress.
